

18. Journal of a Dust Bowl Child

May 5 1934

Dear Diary,

It has been another long and hot day of driving on Rte 66. We have traveled through Texas, Colorado, and Arizona. We are now approach the Tehachapi Desert. I hear you can pick the fruit right off the trees in California! It will be a welcome change from life in Oklahoma for my family and I. I hope I never live to see another day when the sky turns blood red from dirt. I'm sure Papa would find work soon now so that my folks and me can begin to live like a family should. I will write again when we have made our way to Bakersfield!

Our journey to California on Route 66 has taken us through several states. Soon, we will be in Bakersfield!
